Fundraising Information

The approach being taken by the Gingerbread Centre is to look to engage in a longer term strategy of engagement with the student community of Staffordshire that will enable The Gingerbread Centre to improve the activities of the charity.

This type of relationship can include anything from: volunteering to help in the delivery of charitable activities or fundraising events; being a charity partnership of your universities RAG committee; being involved with fundraising events organised by students or in-kind donations of resources.

Here at The Gingerbread Centre we are committed to working with and alongside students as a route to help us more effectively deliver our support to homeless families across Stoke on Trent and Staffordshire and would welcome approaches from Staffordshire based universities who wish to have an empathy with our work supporting homeless vulnerable families.

Why we need your support

Homelessness is rising. Stoke on Trent does not have enough social and genuinely affordable housing. Benefits and services are being cut and to top it all off more cuts to welfare are on the horizon. We need your help.

We are an independent Charity who have been doing innovative work with Homeless Lone Parent Families for 35 years.

Gingerbread provides a range of services including supported homeless accommodation for Lone Mums & Dads, supported accommodation for Teenage Mums and support in the community to prevent homelessness.

Case studies are included in this pack and more information about the Gingerbread Centre and the support we provide can be found on our website

Fundraising for the Gingerbread Centre

Fundraising means we can support our service users every day and fund the vital facilities that go to providing a quality service for families who are homeless or at risk of homelessness to achieve live long independence. Without continuous fundraising many of the services at The Gingerbread Centre would be forced to close.

Fundraising at university is rewarding for everyone involved. With the support of students we can raise awareness within the community, which is an important part of fundraising. With awareness comes understanding, empathy and commitment to a cause or individual.

Why support us?

By supporting The Gingerbread Centre you will be helping vulnerable families regain independence.

This is a great incentive to encourage university societies, RAG committees, friends and families to get involved. Current university relationships have shown that students will develop empathy and understanding of the cause and show a strong willingness to get involved for many years in to the future.

When you choose to fundraise with the Gingerbread centre you will be putting your university in the spotlight.

The media will be happy to promote activities and share with the community your work. This will provide great visibility for your university and will increase your profile immensely.

What we can offer

Fundraising made easy! We want to get to know you and work with you to promote The Gingerbread Centre. On our website is a full year's fundraising calendar. This gives you loads of ideas of ways to get your teams and friends energised and involved in fundraising with The Gingerbread Centre.

If you are considering fundraising with The Gingerbread Centre but are unsure of how best to get started, a discussion with a member of the Gingerbread Centre's team can be arranged to provide advice and support.

On-going support

Just knowing that someone is there to assist, advice, guide and listen can be a huge support. We will commit to building a relationship with key fundraising coordinators within your organisation. A member of the Gingerbread Centre's team will be on hand to answer your questions, run through plans, and give ideas of great ways to enhance your fundraising and to assist with issues which may arise.

Guest speaker

The Gingerbread Centre knows how important it is for fundraisers to know who they are raising money for and why. We will endeavour to provide a guest speaker to share with your group the services that The Gingerbread Centre provide.

Once you have raised money, you may want to make an event of a cheque presentation. We can provide a member of the Gingerbread Centre or a family member to attend and receive the cheque.

This is a great opportunity for you to include the media to raise the profile of both your university and The Gingerbread Centre. We will stay in touch with you in to the future so your members will be able to see how the money they have raised is being spent.

Fundraising in at University

Case Study

Living at Gingerbread, by Lilly (name changed)

My daughter and I had to leave our home after problems with my partner. Everything was in his name, so when I left, I left with nothing. We became homeless. It was then that I moved in Gingerbread. It sounded ok, but I was scared about moving us there. I spoke to a member of staff on the phone and they reassured me that it was there to help us. I moved in that day!

I was scared for me and my daughter and I would not let go of her hand until we got through the door. My little girl had been through so much and I felt guilty that I could not protect her from becoming homeless, but the staff were really welcoming and visited me a lot to make sure I was ok. Although I still had many problems, the support was always available and I started to work through my issues and I began to take part in some of the activities

The support I have received has been constant through the good times and the bad, and it has made me feel like I am more than what I was when I first become homeless. My daughter has started to smile more and has made some friends. I watch her play and feel happy that she has become carefree and doesn't have to worry about what could happen, like she used to when I was with my partner.

The workers at Gingerbread have convinced me that I can achieve anything that I want to and although it has taken me a lot of time, and after I had cried a lot of tears, I have finally started to believe it. Being at Gingerbread has made me realise that I can make a better life for me and my daughter and that my daughter doesn't have to go through what I have.
